To execute a transaction with binary options in the trading terminal MRC MetaTrader 4 you should open a standard order.

The binary option transactions are executed with any amount from 10 to 1000 USD with a step of 10 USD (10, 20, 30... 1000 USD). The amount of the order should be fixed in the "Volume" field as shown on the picture.

If the amount was specified correctly the Sell and Buy buttons become active.

Stop Loss and Take Profit options should not be used.

Comment field can be filled with one or two volumes: time and barrier. Note that the transaction can be executed only with time specified in the Comment field!

Placing the amounts in Comment field (see the picture bellow):

First amount – "Time of the Option" shows the quantity of hours the Option can be placed for (1 to 6). Closing the order happens at the first price after placed period. Please note that setting this parameter is necessary under any scenario.

If the price moved even one pip in the defined direction at the closing order time, your profit will amount to 100%.

Second amount —“Barrier” shows the number of pips the price should move up or down. If you place both these amounts the profit is counted according to the following scale:

Barrier 1. If the level of the order is 25 pips and the price measured it up at the closing order time, you will make 150% profit.

Barrier 2. If the level of the order is 50 pips and the price measured it up at the closing order time, you will make 200% profit.

Barrier 3. If the level of the order is 75 pips and the price measured it up at the closing order time, you will make 300% profit.

Barrier 4. If the level of the order is 100 pips and the price measured it up at the closing order time, you will make 500% profit.

You can have a loss equal to the volume of option transaction if the price is at the opposite to the defined level at the closing order time.

You can see an example of the option order opened for 5 hours with 50 pips barrier. If it will be closed in the predicted trend the profit will amount to 200%.
